

Piscatorial Patter—

The fish? Weeks, the grand old man, had finally caught a big one—in his dream, perhaps. In fact the thing was so big, nobody else had ever been able to land it. So Weeks, with a huge anchor, baited with a piece of beefsteak, fished for the monster. It struck and pulled the grand old man from his seat on and down the river. What a fish! He swam so fast down the stream that it burned the coat right off of Weeks.

From Clewiston comes the word Charley Miner and Representative Elbert Stewart did a lot of fishing—and rowing last Sunday. They put out into the shallow waters of Lake Okechobee in the bright, early morning. They fished, as is the custom, and emptied a reserve can of fuel into their outboard and pulled about a bit more to try new game grounds. The putting stopped. The boat stopped. The fishing stopped. The gasoline was gone! They waited. The other boats in the vicinity considerably left for far-off Liberty Point. They waited some more. Then they rowed. They arrived at Clewiston that night at 11 o'clock.

"Spud" Murphy again, and Sam Fleming tried their luck at Lake Park Sunday and landed four middle-sized bass.

Grand Old Man Weeks, fishing instructor in Betzner's contest, was taken from the waters of Lake Okechobee between Krammer and Tolly Island. Willard reported the monstrous strack on the third cast. As Scheriff sent entered at Betzner's hall where entered himself with eating the thing or showing a mounted record of a law prohibiting the retaining of all fish under 12 inches in length. We have heard that Weeks has mounted the tiny thing in a private room of his home!

H. E. Jones, not lucky but just an opportunist, caught a fish last week and entered it in Betzner's contest. It was the only fish entered all week. It won a prize. Lucky guy! It weighed 5 pounds, 9 ounces.

Willard Scheriff, Experiment Station's fishing hero, landed a trout whopper last Sunday. It weighed exactly 9 1/2 pounds and was taken from the waters of Lake Okechobee between Krammer and Tolly Island. Willard reported the monstrous strack on the third cast. As Scheriff sent entered at Betzner's hall where entered himself with eating the thing or showing a mounted record of a law prohibiting the retaining his grandsons and daughters many years hence.

These catches reported in the past week. Ed Ward of Clewiston caught a 6-pound bass on Monday. Charles Miner landed eight weighing 32 pounds. Gus McCreary and E. L. Stewart brought up 16 bass, approximating 45 pounds. Fred W. Weltl bagged a 5-pound bass.

And the sleeping fisherman story finally arrives. Pete and Theodore Clewiston, the latter a visitor from New York, completed an arduous day's work on the waters of Lake Okechobee with net results showing a string of five approaching 30 pounds. They fell fast asleep. They awoke to find a string fastened to the end of the boat, not to say on the other end. Someone had relieved them of their catch while they were dreaming of still bigger ones.

Well, someone finally did it! To D. W. Cunningham, enterprising Palatka fisherman, goes the honor of retrieving Lake Okechobee of its largest specimen to date. The big thing tipped the scales at Denny's hardware at exactly 9 pounds 7 ounces. The bass has may take season honors in the contest at Denny's. Cunningham's efforts on Sunday were nearly paralleled by the runner-up, an 8-pound 13 ounce bass, caught by Ray Hawk of Canal Point on the very first day of the contest. Ray is the boy who captured ALL prizes last year.

The Tampa papers report that a citizens school committee up there has shown county officials how to get a nine month term and solve a lot of other financial problems. As Lee county is in much the same way there will be considerable interest here in how they are going to do it.

As described by the papers it is simplicity itself. Just collect and solve a lot of other financial problems. As Lee county is in much the same way there will be considerable interest here in how they are going to do it.

authority to collect as equity. Therefore, instead of hearing down on the county commission, which is powerless, the Tampa committee should call on private citizens if it wants to see the schools get what they have coming from delinquent taxes. The thing to do is get up a public subscription with which to buy tax certificates—and get called "tax sharks" for doing it.

Every time a certificate is purchased the effect is to pay the taxes on the property against which it is issued. The money is distributed to the schools, the county, the state and other purposes for which taxes are levied. They immediately use it. The tax buyer in the meantime holds the certificate. It draws interest at the rate of 10 per cent for the first year, 10 per cent for the second and eight thereafter. To get his property clear the owner must pay the interest in addition to the tax. If he doesn't redeem the certificate buyer can foreclose.

and the possibility of PWA representation in the affair. Joseph C. A. Reimer was instructed to reply to the letter thanking the PWA for their interest and informing them that no definite date for the exercises has been set.

J. E. Caldwell asked the council to report a road in the vicinity of the new house and told of several cars and trucks being stuck in the soft mud roadway. He also asked for action in dedicating a road in the neighborhood. Frank Kelly, building inspector, and Caldwell reported all residents in the area were in favor of the road. Payments will be asked from each of the town attorney can make the necessary legal arrangements.

It was announced that Horace Shilling, owner of the former Palm Market, is opening a barbe-

A resolution approving installation of several hundred feet of 6-inch pipe under the FEC r. r. tracks was approved.

Mayor Arthur Wells announced that West Palm Beach WPA authorities informed him no further projects can be established in the glades area due to lack of funds. Employment of former WPA workers on the Palm Security Administration projects to be started soon, was suggested.

J. A. Hubbell, justice of the peace, told the council he has already started work in the planting of several hundred Royal Poinciana and Royal Palm trees from the chosen bridge to the Main street bridge on both sides of the canal. The young trees, furnished by H. H. Hart, will be planted at 50-foot intervals with alternate palm and Poinciana trees to be planted.

An ordinance stating qualifications of electors and candidates for municipal office adopted on final reading.

The council agreed that all possible efforts should be made to insure registration of all qualified freeholders before the registration books close.
